British Desert Troops Reinforced by Flood of Battle-Wise Veterans of the Ebbing East African Conflict, Reported Engaged West of Tobruk With Axis Division Termed by Churchill a Threat to Egypt

OPERATION DETAILS ARE NOT DISCLOSED

By The Associated Press
Cairo, Egypt, April 12.—British desert troops in Libya, reinforced by a flood of battle-wise veterans of the ebbing East African campaign, were reported engaged west of Tobruk today with the Axis divisions which Prime Minister Churchill has termed a threat to Egypt.
Throughout the 400-mile advance of Axis forces in the past three weeks the British have insisted they were merely withdrawing light covering forces to a concentration point where they could fight with "assurance of success."
Today it appeared this second battle of Cirenica would be fought on the rolling tableland between Tobruk and the Gebel el Achrar range—"home grounds" for the British who know every water hole and gully in the area.
Beyond a terse official announcement that "our troops are in contact with the enemy west of Tobruk," no details of the British operations were disclosed, however. Tobruk is only 80 miles from the Egyptian border.
The German-Italian mechanized columns, now more than 800 miles from their base in Tripoli, were said to include several German armored divisions, strongly supported by aircraft.
British North African troops were reported today by informed sources in Berlin to have been ousted by German-Italian forces from defense positions they built between Derna and Tobruk.
Cooperating German and Italian forces were said to have struck on ahead of the advancing Axis ground forces, effectively raiding port facilities at Tobruk with "super-bombers."
Two hundred and fifty German planes alone were said to be operating in the Derna-Tobruk area. British sources gave no indication of the volume of troop movements from East Africa to Libya.
Of East Africa, a British communiqué last night said that Imperial troops were driving southward.

Bells of Rome's 420 Churches, Silent Since Thursday, Pronounce End of Lent

Rome, April 12.—(P)—The bells of Rome's 420 churches, silent since Thursday, rang out today to pronounce the end of Lent and Christ's resurrection.
In all the eternal city's basilicas and minor churches organs poured forth their music again, altar candles were re-lighted and the mourning draperies of purple and black were lifted from the Holy images.
In St. Peter's, Federico Cardinal Tedeschi, archpriest, struck sparks from the flint to light the "new fire" symbolizing the resurrection. Then he blessed the Pope's paschal candle, eight feet tall and three inches in diameter. This ceremony was followed by the Holy Saturday mass.
Priests, attended by acolytes, visited homes in Rome and throughout Italy, sprinkling them with Holy water. In many homes the evening meal and food for the Easter dinner had been prepared and placed on the table so that it too might be blessed.
Because of war conditions, there will be no Easter mass celebrated in St. Peter's by Pope Pius XII but the pontiff will deliver his Easter message beginning at 1 p. m. (6 a. m. EST) and his words will be broadcast to the world on short wave lengths 31.06 and 19.84.

Over Thousand Youngsters Participate in Annual Easter Egg Hunt of American Legion

Clear Skies and Warm Sun Add to Gayety of Event Staged in Crescent Park At Two O'clock this Afternoon

ADULTS INTERESTED

Quicker than one could count to ten, some 3,400 eggs disappeared from Crescent Park at two o'clock this afternoon. The occasion was the annual Easter Egg Hunt of the American Legion.
There was no mystery connected with the disappearance of the eggs. Well over a thousand youngsters swooped down on them in a wild scramble, hoping one of the 350 or more prize eggs would be their reward.
Clear skies and a warm sun made it appear that the eggs melted from sight, so fast did they go. A minute before two o'clock there had been a line of noisy, impatient youngsters. By two minutes past two the whole area of Crescent Park from the Hickory street bridge to well below the hospital was alive with a scrambling mass of children.
To countless others on the bridge and on the north side of the river bank it presented a colorful spectacle. The echo of the starting gun heard scarcely away before it seemed that every egg had disappeared.
Legionnaires and members of the Sons of Legion, who were on hand to see that no accident befell any of the participants, were almost howled over as the scramble got under way.
By noon today the first youngsters were already at the park. By one o'clock a regular mass movement of children was under way. They came on foot, on bikes and in automobiles. All carried baskets, paper bags or convenient pockets in which they could already imagine was soon to lay a coveted egg.
In addition to those who have already been thanked, members of the Legion's egg hunt committee, headed by Ralph Brasington, today expressed appreciation to the Warren Transfer Company, which arranged for transportation of the eggs, furnished ropes used to hold the children in line and provided other helpful service.
Following is a list of those donating prize eggs:
American Legion, Agnes Beauty Shop, Alexander Rashid Co., Adams Red & White Store, 104 Dartmouth street; Angove's Market, Bimber's News Room, J. D. Blyler, 302 Pennsylvania avenue, east; Blue and White Restaurant, E. & E. Chevrolet Co., Betty Lee, Brown's Boot Shops, Banner Grocery, Max Bailey.

Sunny Weather Promised for Eastern Part Of the State While West May Get Showers

By The Associated Press
Prospects for generally sunny weather favor Easter parades in eastern Pennsylvania but a forecast of cloudy weather carried a threat to new bonnets in the western part of the state.
Philadelphia's starting for shore points, nearby cities and the county yesterday welcomed 72-degree temperatures after having last year's holidays marred by freezing weather and the year before by snow. Harrisburg had 76 with continued warm forecast.
Weather prospects favor Easter parades in most of the other sections of the nation.
Chunggoers in the southeast and Midwest may get new hats wet in April showers, but most of the south, New England, and part of the north Atlantic seaboard could expect generally fair and mild temperatures. The outlook was for clouds in the southwest, and sunshine in the Rocky Mountains and far west.
The nation's capital made ready for an estimated 200,000 visitors at the annual cherry blossom festival. Despite sunny, warm weather, the Japanese blooms were tardy and may not be out in force until Wednesday.
Mrs. Roosevelt, who usually presides at the Easter Monday egg rolling on the White House lawn, expects to be in Los Angeles and Mrs. Henry A. Wallace, wife of the new vice president, will act as hostess for the frolicking children.

Detroit, April 12.—(P)—Acting swiftly after the end of a 40-day CIO strike, Ford Motor Company officials started today to pump the life blood of production back into the industrial giant whose key unit is the world's largest factory.
More than 5,000 of the 85,000 production workers at Ford's great Rouge plant were expected to return to their jobs Monday; others will be recalled as needed.
The strike settlement yesterday was hailed by Governor Murray D. Van Vagoner of Michigan as an "historic step in establishing peaceful industrial relations."

A German military spokesman said Thursday that Greek prisoners captured in Thrace numbered more than 80,000 and that the "final number will be much greater," since the count was not finished.

Sunny Weather Promised for Eastern Part Of the State While West May Get Showers

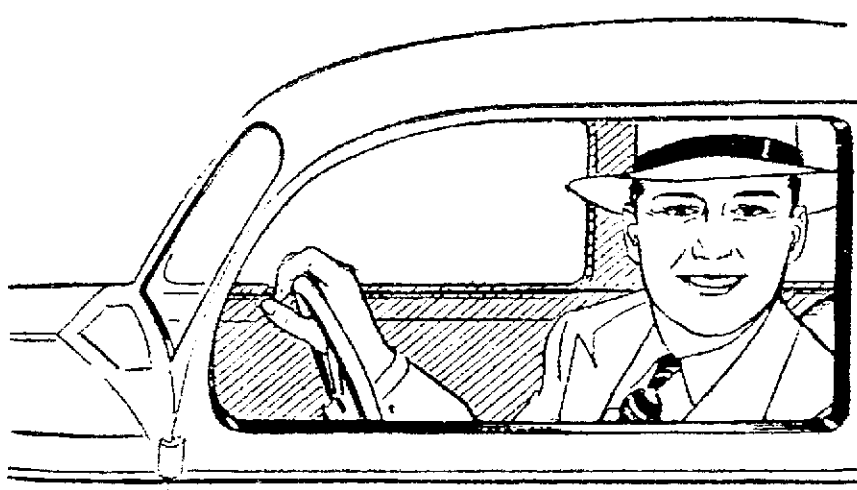

Prospects for generally sunny weather favor Easter parades in eastern Pennsylvania but a forecast of cloudy weather carried a threat to new bonnets in the western part of the state.

Philadelphians starting for shore points, nearby cities and the country yesterday welcomed 72-degree temperatures after having last year's holidays marred by freezing weather and the year before by snow. Harrisburg had 76 with continued warm forecast.

Weather prospects favor Easter parades in most of the other sections of the nation.

Churchgoers in the southeast and midwest may get new hats wet in April showers, but most of

for the frolicking children.

EASTER ATTRACTION AT THE COLUMBIA THEATRE
TODAY AND SUNDAY

"A Man Betrayed" is a dramatic film from the Republic lot. "A Man Betrayed" is scheduled to show at the Columbia Theatre today and Sunday with John Wayne and Frances Dee in the top spots, and Edward Ellis, Harold Huber, Alexander Granach, Ward Bond and Barnett Parker filling out the supporting ranks.

"Prairie Pioneers"

Children's favorite cowboy trip, the Three Mesquiteers, presented its fans in this city a superb piece of entertainment Saturday and Sunday at the Columbia Theatre, where the latest stunner, Republic's "Prairie Pioneers," was previewed. Associate Producer Lou Gray and Director Lester Orlebeck deserve high praise for this, the best in a mighty fine series. As is familiar to western fans, Bob Livingston, Bob Steele, and comic Rufe Davis appeared in the roles of Stony Brooke, Tucson Smith, and Little Jodlin, respectively. Little need to say that they were at their best after all, they always are. Beautiful Esther Esuella, a comparative newcomer to the screen, stood out in the heroine's role.

LITTLE JACK LITTLE AND HIS ORCHESTRA

The Library Theatre takes great pleasure in presenting for your enjoyment Tuesday, April 15th, Little Jack Little, his Orchestra and radio revue. The revue features the lovely "Queen of Tapes," Mary Lynne, who has recently joined the band for their current theatre tour. The Maestro who is also talented along the composing line will also thrill you with some of his latest unpublished hits. Don't miss this outstanding stage attraction and superb screen show at the Library Theatre, one day only, Tuesday, April 15th, afternoon and evening.

AUXILIARY TO ORGANIZE HOME DEFENSE UNIT

Members of the American Legion Auxiliary are reminded that Mrs. C. D. Cannon, West street, will be at the American Legion Home Monday and Tuesday afternoons, from 1:30 until 4:30 o'clock, and again on Tuesday evening for the purpose of enrolling the membership for home defense.

A letter from the department president, Mrs. Arthur Beaver, of Dravosburg, explains this activity as follows:

"The present emergency that springs from the war abroad and the threat of war for America presents a new and greater challenge to the American Legion Auxiliary than we have ever been confronted with since the inception of our organization.

"Never before has there been such a need for a group of women, organized and experienced as are the women of our organization, to come to the front and accept the duties the present crisis offers. The registration for volunteer service is part of our national defense plan. If any section of the United States should be prepared in case of America's entry into the war it is the eastern section. If any attack should be made on America, we would be in the front line—we would serve with the 'shock troops.'

"We ask that you contact your local Red Cross Chapter and arrange for first aid classes, surgical dressing groups, auto mechanics courses, day nursery studies, and cooking classes. Also, those members who wish to enroll as drivers should assist in promoting a safe drivers' school. It has always been the desire of the American Legion Auxiliary to give the best service possible in every activity. With this in mind, let us immediately begin to equip ourselves to give the best service and most efficient service in this, another great emergency."

Fire Destroys Home Near Grand Valley

Fire believed to have started around a defective chimney destroyed the home of Mrs. Ethel Baker on Starr Hill, about two miles from Grand Valley, yesterday morning. Most of the clothing and household effects were destroyed.

Mrs. Baker's son, Ray Baker, 16, resides at home. At the time of the fire, Mrs. Baker had a two-year-old granddaughter with her. Mrs. Baker is now staying with neighbors but she and her son expect to move into a small building on the farm. They have no future clothing or other goods that they were wearing, and any contributions from persons in that section will be appreciated. It was stated today.

RECORD NUMBER AT GOOD FRIDAY SERVICES HERE

An increasing interest has been apparent in the noonday Holy Week services sponsored by the Warren County Ministerial Association and this was very evident in the record attendance for the Good Friday three-hour evocations in the First Methodist church. In addition to the capacity congregation in the church proper, the chapel was opened and soon filled.

Many compliments have been heard concerning the beautiful musical program arranged by Carroll A. Fowler and presented by the meditations in the earlier part of the service, the choir sang the beautiful cantata by Dubois, "The Seven Last Words," with the following as soloists: Mrs. Ernest Fogel, James E. Springer and Earl Ericson. Mr. Fowler was at the organ for special selections and to accompany the choir.

In the early portion of the worship period, the anthems were sung by a double quartet composed of Virginia Davis, Bonny Johnson, Helen Anderregg, Florence Wolstencroft, James Harding, James D. Short, Jr., Alton Byler and Charles Trantier.

The Seven Last Words From the Cross presented in meditations were the theme for splendid messages by Rev. S. R. Schieb, Rev. Dwight Jack and Rev. Scott Byers, with Dr. T. E. Colley presiding.

RECORD NUMBER AT GOOD FRIDAY SERVICES HERE

An increasing interest has been apparent in the noonday Holy Week services sponsored by the Warren County Ministerial Association and this was very evident in the record attendance for the Good Friday three-hour devotions in the First Methodist church.

In addition to the capacity congregation in the church proper, the chapel was opened and soon filled. Many compliments have been heard concerning the beautiful musical program arranged by Carroll A. Fowler and presented by an augmented choir. Following the meditations in the earlier part of the service, the choir sang the beautiful cantata by Dubois, "The Seven Last Words," with the following as soloists: Mrs. Ernest Fogel, James E. Springer and Earl Ericson. Mr. Fowler was at the organ for special selections and to accompany the choir.

In the early portion of the worship period, the anthems were sung by a double quartet composed of Virginia Davis, Bonny Johnson, Helen Anderg, Florence Wolstencroft, James Harding, James D. Shortt, Jr., Alton Blyler and Charles Tranter.

The Seven Last Words From the Cross presented in meditations were the theme for splendid messages by Rev. S. R. Schieb, Rev. Dwight Jack and Rev. Scott Byers, with Dr. T. E. Colley presiding.

The local fire department was called and extinguished the blaze. About four o'clock yesterday afternoon the department was called to the vicinity of the United Reformatory to extinguish a fire in an oil pump between the railroad and the river, and at eight o'clock last evening the department went to Starbrick at the request of the state forestry department to extinguish a grass fire.

COLE HILL
Cole Hill, April 7.—Carl Martin of Irvin was here on business Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Camp and daughter, Frances, were guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Grant Herdendorf at Warren Wednesday. Postmaster Harold McConnell of Torpedo was here Wednesday on business.

Andy Bednar celebrated his birthday anniversary at his home here April 1st, with a birthday dinner, including a beautiful birthday cake made by his mother, Mrs. Frank Albozek. He received some nice birthday gifts.

Mr. and Mrs. William Gray of the Garland-Torpedo road had the misfortune to lose their home and contents by fire early Thursday morning.

Mr. Gray had eaten his breakfast and gone to his work at Kane and Mrs. Gray and daughter, Alice, were eating their breakfast in the kitchen in the back of the house when they discovered the smoke. They went to investigate and found that the front of the house was all in flames. The fire was already coming through the ceiling overhead. Orrle Rowland and Harry Richards, next door neighbors, were called and helped to try and save the house, but the fire was back in the walls where the house had been wired for electricity and it was impossible to reach it. They then tried to save the contents but only saved a few pieces of furniture. They got their piano partly out but it took fire so they had to leave it. They lost all their clothes, food, bedding and dishes, which was a total loss as there was no insurance either on the building or on the contents. Their telephone was the only one near the Methodist church. Mr. and Mrs. Gray and daughter, Alice, have the sympathy of the entire community in their loss.

The Cole Hill fire tower watchman, E. L. Martin, went on duty in the fire tower here Friday. There is no danger of forest fires here in this section, however, for some time yet. There is more snow in the woods at this time of the year this year than has been for several years.

Seth Holmes of Garland was here Thursday looking after the snow fences. The snow fences are still here, however. The dirt roads were scraped here Thursday, then the rain came and made them worse than they were before. Howard Eastman, who has been working at the Ideal Farm near Kane, is home on a short visit here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Eastman, and other relatives.

A fine sermon was delivered in the Garland Methodist church Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock by the pastor, the Rev. Dwight Jack, of Youngsville. He will hold an Easter service in the Garland Methodist church next Sunday afternoon, April 13th, at 2 o'clock. Everybody is invited.

The Willing Workers of the Garland Methodist church met Thursday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Dahlstrom at Garland Luncheon was served. The Willing Workers will meet again in two weeks at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Palmer on the Garland-Torpedo road.

A farmer here reports seeing seventeen deer in a drove at one time, feeding in a pasture. Another farmer reports that the deer have eaten all the buds on his huckleberry bushes so that he will have no huckleberries here this year. Miss Nellie Wentworth is a Warren visitor today.

William R. Green, of 6 Peach street, passed away at the Warren General Hospital at seven o'clock last evening after an illness of about two months.

William Rancel Green was born at Williamstown, N. Y., December 19, 1880, the son of James and Isabel Metot Green. The family moved to Austin, Potter county, with the early lumber industry. Mr. Green came to Warren in May, 1922, and has resided here since that time, being an employee of the Struthers-Wells Company.

Surviving are his wife, Louise B. Green; two daughters, Mrs. Robert L. Brown and Mrs. Glenn E. Peterson; two grandchildren, Bobby Lee and Billy Brown; two brothers, Fred Green, of Olean, and Claud Green, of Williamsport; a sister, Mrs. Thomas Barry, of Steubenville, Ohio. A third grandson, Glenn Peterson, Jr., died a year ago yesterday.

He was a member of Grace Methodist church and a diligent Christian worker in any cause where his service would count for the promotion of God's Kingdom. He was a devoted husband and father and numbered his friends by his acquaintances.

A prayer service will be held from the family home on Monday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock, followed by services at the United Brethren church at 2 p. m. Interment will be in Moody cemetery at Corryville, Pa.

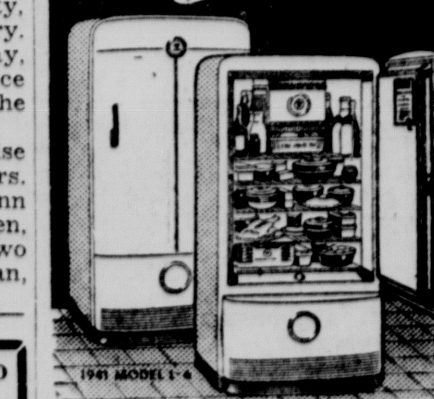

IN MEMORIAM
Baker, Alene—April 13, 1936
There is a family who misses you sadly.

And finds the time long since you went:
We think of you daily and hourly,
And try to be brave and content,
But the tears we shed in silence,
And breathe the sighs of regret,
For you were ours and we remember.
Though all the world forget,
Loving Husband and Children,

EASTER
An editorial which contains many inspiring thoughts
on the Easter season is reprinted from an exchange as follows:
Two different streams of thought flow into the minds
of the people on Easter Sunday, and create brightness
and hope in a world where so many things are dark
and dreary.
The first stream of thought comes from Christian history down through the ages. It is carried by the countless throng of saints, martyrs, teachers and humble
people in all ranks of life, who feel that on Easter Sunday they have had a contact with the divine nature
which has convinced them that death is not the end
of all things.
The second stream of thought comes from nature
and philosophy. We look out and see the birds mating,
the lambs skipping in the fields, the trees coming to life after a winter of death, the plants springing up in the garden, where a few weeks ago all was desolation.
This message tells us that things which seem dead
are not necessarily so, that life goes through periods
of sleep, when its existence appears terminated, but that when the time comes it revives again.
Nature teaches us that anything that is really valuable lives on in some form. The most vital thing is human personality. The man who is a useful force counts for more than a mountain full of earth and rock.
The man can think and plan his future, and act and organize activity. The mountain is just a dead mass,
and can not move, think, or act. It seems inconceivable that this vital force of personality can be cast into the scrapheap as if it was worthless.
So this stream of human thought comes to us as the birds sing and the flowers bloom, and the people put
on their prettiest clothes and join in Easter worship.
These suggestions of nature and philosophy give us
confidence that the Easter message of resurrection and
life immortal is not a mere dream.
Start of work on the widening of Pennsylvania
avenue between Hickory and Poplar streets has brought
joy to the merchants doing business in that block.
The greatest week of the whole year for florists and

WEEKLY SERMONETTE
"PURE RELIGION"
REV. A. G. NEADE
Clarendon Evangelical

"Pure religion and undefiled before God and the Father
is this: To visit the fatherless and widows in their affliction and to keep himself unspotted from the world."—James 1:27.

Religion is a vital part in the life of every man on earth regardless of race or place of birth. Every savage race has a religion of some kind. It is only among the so-called Christian peoples that there is indifference toward religion. It is only among these people that we find other things taking the place of religion. There are many things that we let pass as religion today. Let us call attention to a few of them.

1. There are those who are depending upon their morality. They contend they have not done anything bad. They are honest, upright, and clean in their lives, but that is not enough. The man with the one talent was condemned because he had failed to put his talent to use. Jesus in his word picture of judgment said to those on the left hand, "Inasmuch as ye did it not unto the least of these ye did it not unto me."
2. Comparative Goodness. I am as good as others, better than some who profess. That may be true but that does not justify before God. Everyone must stand on his own merits. Paul warns in 2nd Cor., 10:12: "They measuring themselves by themselves, and comparing themselves among themselves are not wise. For not he that commendeth himself is approved but whom the Lord commendeth."
3. Benevolence toward the church is not religion. God cannot be bribed.
4. Church membership alone is not religion. God will not consult the church record in the judgment but the Book of Life. "And whosoever was not found written in the book of life was cast into the lake of fire."—Rev. 20:15.
5. Water Baptism is not religion. Water cannot cleanse the soul.
It takes the blood of Jesus Christ to cleanse the heart of sin.
6. Formal Worship is not religion. God looks on the heart and not on the outward appearance. "Can we then, though the form of worship as do many today but their hearts are not in it. Christian work without the right motive will not save. Not of works test any man should boast."

Pure Religion is this: "To visit the fatherless and widows in their affliction," active charity in things material and spiritual, and "to keep one's self unspotted from the world" without blemish.
We may deceive men, but not God. "Be not deceived, God is not mocked for whatsoever a man soweth that shall he also reap."
PRAYER—O Eternal God, creator and preserver of mankind, we humbly beseech Thee, help us to cast away all and substitutes for pure and undefiled religion, and to accept of Thee in whom alone is light, life, and salvation, we pray in Thy name. Amen.

Man About Manhattan

By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK — Grace Moore sleeps in what may be summed up as an altogether luxurious bedroom. She lives on Park Avenue, and this room is loaded with cutglass bottles of rare perfumes and jars of all sorts of expensive and desirable creams and lotions. Even the bed, which is luxurious in the DeMille manner, is touched off with a pink throw.

This throw has a history. "It was my first pink coat," explains Miss Moore. "I bought it almost 18 years ago. It was the first time in my life that I felt I could afford a pink coat and I bought it on time."

She patted the little pink petals as if they were petals. "But you'd never imagine the emotions they've been through. Bea Lillie wore it all one season on tour. Finally I sent it to a furrier and had it cut down to a jacket and with the left-overs I had matters and a muff made in time these became old and I almost threw them away. I couldn't part with it, so sent the jacket, muff, mittens and all the trimmings back to the furrier and had them made into a spread. Now it covers me every night."

This has been a good season for Miss Moore, who is on concert tour at the moment and who will tour this spring with the Metropolitan Opera Company. It is probable that she will go to Mexico City and appear at the National theater there, and she may also make a picture.

IN Luchow's at dinner last night I sat next to three adults and a little girl of about 9. The orchestra began to play the Blue Danube Waltz. "Hear that?" said the little girl. "That's that new hit tune in 'Charley's Aunt!'"

A Washington Daybook

By JACK STINNETT

WASHINGTON—If the United States Coast Guard ever gets its share of public recognition, the phrase "Let the Coast Guard Do It" will become as full of meaning as "Tell it to the Marines."

When ships of warring or captive nations in American ports were taken over recently, who was called in to rout out their crews, take over the boats, and guard against sabotage? The Coast Guard.

When a cruise liner goes aground, lists to starboard and threatens to dump its passengers into the briny, who rushes to bring them ashore through a treacherous, pounding surf?

Who chops a way through dangerous ice to bring doctors, medical supplies and food to some little winter-bound community of Eskimos where an epidemic has broken out? Who sets a flying boat down on an angry sea to bring some pain-wracked sailor to port in time for the emergency operation that will save his life? Who maintains a lonely and often storm-battered weather reporting patrol from the Azores to Greenland?

It's the Coast Guard every time.

Started In 1790
THE Coast Guard started in 1790 when President Washington approved an act of Congress setting up the Revenue Marine. It had ten boats and just one duty—to prevent smuggling. In 1848, the United States life-saving service was set up. In 1915, these two were merged and given the name Coast Guard. As late as 1921, the Coast Guard got its first airplane—a few obsolete old craft cast off by the Navy. In 1939, the Lighthouse Service was absorbed.

There hardly has been a year in the last hundred that the Coast Guard hasn't added men, ships and duties.

Today, it has a personnel of about 20,000, including more than 800 commissioned officers, and is planning to add about 5,000 enlisted men by the end of 1942.

It has 485 cutters. Anything longer than 26 feet, with a commanding officer, is a cutter—the larger vessels are 125 to 327 feet. There are seven of the big ones,

EASTER

An editorial which contains many inspiring thoughts
on the Easter season is reprinted from an exchange as follows:

Two different streams of thought flow into the minds
of the people on Easter Sunday, and create brightness
and hope in a world where so many things are dark
and dreary.

The first stream of thought comes from Christian history down through the ages. It is carried by the countless throng of saints, martyrs, teachers and humble
people in all ranks of life, who feel that on Easter Sunday they have had a contact with the divine nature
which has convinced them that death is not the end
of all things.

The second stream of thought comes from nature
and philosophy. We look out and see the birds mating,
the lambs skipping in the fields, the trees coming to life after a winter of death, the plants springing up in the garden, where a few weeks ago all was desolation.

This message tells us that things which seem dead
are not necessarily so, that life goes through periods
of sleep, when its existence appears terminated, but that
when the time comes it revives again.

Nature teaches us that anything that is really valuable lives on in some form. The most vital thing is human personality. The man who is a useful force counts for more than a mountain full of earth and rock.
The man can think and plan his future, and act and
organize activity. The mountain is just a dead mass,
and can not move, think, or act. It seems inconceivable
that this vital force of personality can be cast into the scrapheap as if it was worthless.

So this stream of human thought comes to us as the birds sing and the flowers bloom, and the people put
on their prettiest clothes and join in Easter worship.
These suggestions of nature and philosophy give us
confidence that the Easter message of resurrection and
life immortal is not a mere dream.

Start of work on the widening of Pennsylvania
avenue between Hickory and Poplar streets has brought
joy to the merchants doing business in that block.

The greatest week of the whole year for florists and milliners is fast coming to a climax.

WEEKLY SERMONETTE

"PURE RELIGION"
REV. A. G. MEADE
Clarendon Evangelical

"Pure religion and undefiled before God and the Father
is this: To visit the fatherless and widows in their affliction and to keep himself unspotted from the world."—James 1:27.

Religion is a vital part in the life of every man on earth regardless of race or place of birth. Every savage race has a religion of some kind. It is only among the so-called Christian peoples that there is indifference toward religion. It is only among these people that we find other things taking the place of religion. There are many things that we let pass as religion today. Let us call attention to a few of them.

1. There are those who are depending upon their morality. They contend they have not done anything bad. They are honest, upright, and clean in their lives, but that is not enough. The man with the one talent was condemned because he had failed to put his talent to use. Jesus in his word picture of judgment scene said to those on the left hand, "Inasmuch as ye did it not unto the least of these
ye did it not unto me."

2. Comparative Goodness. I am as good as others, better than some who profess. That may be true but that does not justify before God. Everyone must stand on his own merits. Paul warns in 2nd Cor., 10:12: "They measuring themselves by themselves, and comparing themselves among themselves are not wise. For not he that commendeth himself is approved but whom the Lord commendeth."

3. Benevolence toward the church is not religion. God cannot be bribed.

4. Church membership alone is not religion. God will not consult the church record in the judgment but the Book of Life. "And whosoever was not found written in the book of life was cast into the lake of fire."—Rev. 20:15.

5. Water Baptism is not religion. Water cannot cleanse the soul,
it takes the blood of Jesus Christ to cleanse the heart of sin.

6. Formal Worship is not religion. God looks on the heart and not on the outward appearance. Cain went through the form of worship as do many today but their hearts are not in it. Christian work without the right motive will not save. "Not of works lest
any man should boast."

Pure Religion is this: "To visit the fatherless and widows in their affliction," active charity in things material or spiritual, and "to keep one's self unspotted from the world" without blemish.

We may deceive men, but not God. "Be not deceived, God is not mocked for whatsoever a man soweth, that shall he also reap."
PRAYER—O Eternal God, creator and preserver of mankind, and humbly beseech Thee, help us to cast aside any and all substitutes for pure and undefiled Thee, and to accept Christ, in whom alone is light, life, and salvation, we pray in Jesus' name. Amen.

Verily, verily, I say unto you, he that believeth on me hath everlasting life.—John 6:47.

Be thou faithful unto death. Revelation.

Man About Manhattan

By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK — Grace Moore
sleeps in what may be summed up as an altogether luxurious bedroom. She lives on Park Avenue, and this room is loaded with cutglass bottles of rare perfumes and jars of all sorts of expensive and desirable creams and lotions.
Even the bed, which is luxurious in the DeMille manner, is touched off with a pink throw.

This throw has a history. "It was my first pink coat," explains Miss Moore. "I bought it almost 18 years ago. It was the first time in my life that I felt I could afford a pink coat and I bought it on time."

She patted the little pink pelts
as if they were pets. "But you'd never imagine the emotions they've been through. Bea Lillie wore it all one season on tour.
Finally I sent it to a furrier and had it cut down to a jacket, and with the left-overs I had mittens and a muff made. In time these became old and I almost threw them away. I couldn't part with it, so sent the jacket, muff, mittens and all the trimmings back to the furrier and had them made into a spread. Now it covers me every night."

This has been a good season for Miss Moore, who is on concert tour at the moment and who will tour this spring with the Metropolitan Opera Company. It is probable that she will go to Mexico City and appear at the National theater there, and she may also make a picture.

WHY Alexander Woolcott
wants to be an actor is something his friends cannot understand. He is rich. He is successful as an author, as a reviewer, as a radio raconteur. But he is no touring the country in that bawdy, hilarious caricature of himself

"The Man Who Came to Dinner."
... and by the way of diversion, had the experience of having $75 "lifted" from his dressing room the other night. He hasn't the least idea who took it.

AN autographed album of her records arrives from Gertrude Lawrence in the mail this morning, the ones we saw her record several weeks ago. It was thoughtful and pleasant of her.
And a copy of S. J. Wolf's autobiography, "Here Am I," in the same mail. Mr. Wolf is a distinguished artist and journalist who has talked with everybody of importance, and sketched their portraits, from Mark Twain to F.D.R.
Once while he was in Rome, he sketched Mussolini's classic features, the Duke tossed him a broad wink. Mr. Wolf is by way of saying, "I can't help it, can I?" after going through the musical comedy rigamarole of stiff-arm saluting his Fascist aides who strutted into and out of his office. The Duke was embarrassed.

SOL BLOOM, now a Congressman, used to be a music publisher and one of his bright young salesmen in those days was Frank Buck, who brings 'em back alive.
... Before he became a tiger and cobra hunter, Buck was also a bellhop and an actor.

IN Luchow's at dinner last night
I sat next to three adults and a little girl about 9. The orchestra began to play the Blue Danube Waltz. "Hear that?" said the little girl. "That's that new hit tune in 'Charley's Aunt!'"

By JACK STINNETT

WASHINGTON—If the United States Coast Guard ever gets its share of public recognition, the phrase "Let the Coast Guard Do It" will become as full of meaning as "Tell it to the Marines."

When ships of warring or captive nations in American ports were taken over recently, who was called in to rout out their crews, take over the boats, and guard against sabotage? The Coast Guard.

When a cruise
liner goes aground, lists
to starboard
and threatens to dump frantic passengers into the briny, who rushes to bring them ashore

through a treacherous, pounding surf?

Who chops a way through dangerous ice to bring doctors, medical supplies and food to some little winter-bound community of Eskimos where an epidemic has broken out? Who sets a flying boat down on an angry sea to bring some pain-wracked sailor to port in time for the emergency operation that will save his life?

Who maintains a lonely and often storm-battered weather reporting
patrol from the Azores to Greenland?
It's the Coast Guard every time.

Started In 1790

THE Coast Guard started in 1790 when President Washington approved an act of Congress
setting up the Revenue Marine.
It had ten boats and just one duty
—to prevent smuggling. In 1848, the United States life-saving service was set up. In 1915, these two were merged and given the name Coast Guard. As late as 1921, the Coast Guard got its first airplanes
—a few obsolete old crates cast off by the Navy. In 1939, the Lighthouse Service was absorbed.
There hardly has been a year in the last hundred that the Coast Guard hasn't added men, ships and duties.

Today, it has a personnel of about 20,000, including more than 600 commissioned officers, and is planning to add about 5,000 enlisted men by the end of 1942.
It has 485 cutters. Anything longer than 26 feet, with a commanding officer, is a cutter—the larger vessels are 125 to 327 feet.
There are seven of the big ones,

commissioned in 1936 and comparable to Navy gunboats. They have a cruising radius of 12,000 miles. In addition to the cutters, the Coast Guard has 41 lighter vessels and 3,300 small boats ranging down to surf boats and dories. It has about 60 planes and pilots and crews to man them.

But look what has happened to its duties. After the Titanic went down, the Coast Guard established an iceberg patrol and just how well it has done that it written into the record of 28 years without a single casualty from the bergs, which once were "floating death" in the north Atlantic sea lanes.

Removes Wrecks

THE Coast Guard searches out and removes wrecks and derelicts. It enforces all laws and regulations pertaining to operation and anchorage of merchant vessels and motorboats. It watches over vessels in the deep-sea fishing fleets. It enforces the laws concerning whaling (on American ships anywhere in the world), seal, salmon, sponge and other fishing. It patrols rivers during floods. It patrols regattas during regattas. (Don't snicker... there were 443 regattas in the last reported year.) It maintains all the light stations and beacons for navigation and shoreline aviation.
When the neutrality patrol was set up in the fall of 1939, the Coast Guard got that order, too.

It has its own Annapolis at New London, Conn., where officers are graduated after four-year courses. And it has trained for the U. S. merchant marine something like 800 licensed and 4,000 unlicensed seamen in the last three years.

These are just its peacetime exploits. Tomorrow, I will tell you about the Coast Guard in time of war. Perhaps you already can see why there are no punies
in this service which, with all those duties, has to live up to its motto, "Semper Paratus"—always ready.

College Club Hears Interesting Speech On The Greek Situation

Following a 6:30 o'clock dinner at the Y. W. C. A. last evening, members and guests of College Club had the privilege of hearing a splendid talk on Greece by Abbott Rick, native of Jamestown, N. Y., and former teacher in Athens.

Under the topic "The Land of the Free and the Home of the Brave", the speaker termed America the land of the free but Greece, the home of the brave. Characteristics of the people were explained, together with the historical centers of the country, their meaning and survival of their influence today. The military set-up, problems of the current situation and unceasing struggle for democracy were outlined and the importance attached to the death of Premier Metaxas stressed.

Many in the group remained after the meeting to talk further with Mr. Rick, who had made the topic most interesting and informative.

The speaker was presented by Miss Doris Gamble, program chairman. Miss Kathryn Martin was hostess for this month and the brief business session was conducted by the president, Mrs. Melvin Keller.

The May meeting, to be held at the home of Mrs. William Glassman, will be the final session for this season and officers for next year will be named. Announced last night were the following members of a committee to nominate officers: Mrs. Paul Coe, chairman; Mrs. Robert Mackay and Mrs. B. W. Knapp.

Rebekah Lodge Has Installation Rites

There was a good attendance for the supper and business meeting held last evening by the Lady Warren Rebekah Lodge, with installation of officers in charge of Mrs. Jennie Clark, of Russell, district deputy president and member of the local order. She was assisted by Mrs. Maude Bright, acting as marshal.

The past grand, Ruelena Yaeger, was presented with her jewel for service in office and reported a very successful term, having been present for every meeting night and all but two nights in her term as vice grand.

There were guests from Frewsburg and Jamestown, N. Y., and from Russell. Members were pleased, also, to welcome back Mrs. Florence Loney, of Starbrick, who has been convalescing following an automobile accident some weeks ago.

Plans were discussed for a public card party to be held next Friday evening, April 18, when both men and women will be invited. Lodge will convene at 7:30 o'clock and play for the card party will start at eight.

OFFICIALS SEEK "FIRE BUG" IN M'KEAN COUNTY

A "fire bug" who started seven forest fires within a distance of seven miles along the Willow Creek road in McKean county between Bradford and Corydon yesterday afternoon is being sought by officials of the U. S. Forest Service, State Motor Police and city police of Bradford, it was learned here today.
Between 60 and 70 acres of land was burned over by the fires, spaced at irregular intervals along the seven-mile stretch of road apparently by someone driving a car from Bradford to Corydon, it was stated.

Two dwellings and a garage were threatened by the fires. Forest officials said both houses would have been destroyed if the occupants had not been at home. The garage, said to be owned by a Warren resident, took fire but the blaze was extinguished before damage was done.

While most of the fires were on private land, there was some damage done to trees on the Allegheny National Forest, it was reported.

The first fire was discovered about two o'clock yesterday afternoon and the last being just over the Warren-McKean county line in the latter county. The fires were near the Bradford municipal water reservoir.

Each of the fires was started in grass along the highway and spread rapidly because of the dry condition of the fuel and the lack of humidity, forestry officials said.

College Club Hears Interesting Speech On The Greek Situation

Following a 6:30 o'clock dinner at the Y. W. C. A. last evening, members and guests of College Club had the privilege of hearing a splendid talk on Greece by Abbott Rick, native of Jamestown, N. Y., and former teacher in Athens.

Under the topic "The Land of the Free and the Home of the Brave", the speaker termed America the land of the free but Greece, the home of the brave. Characteristics of the people were explained, together with the historical centers of the country, their meaning and survival of their influence today. The military set-up, problems of the current situation and unceasing struggle for democracy were outlined and the importance attached to the death of Premier Metaxas stressed.

Many in the group remained after the meeting to talk further with Mr. Rick, who had made the topic most interesting and informative.

The speaker was presented by Miss Doris Gamble, program chairman. Miss Kathryn Martin was hostess for this month and the brief business session was conducted by the president, Mrs. Melvin Keller.

The May meeting, to be held at the home of Mrs. William Glassman, will be the final session for this season and officers for next year will be named. Announced last night were the following members of a committee to nominate officers: Mrs. Paul Coe, chairman; Mrs. Robert Mackay and Mrs. B. W. Knapp.

Rebekah Lodge Has Installation Rites

There was a good attendance for the supper and business meeting held last evening by the Lady Warren Rebekah Lodge, with installation of officers in charge of Mrs. Jennie Clark, of Russell, district deputy president and member of the local order. She was assisted by Mrs. Maude Bright, acting as marshal.

The past grand, Ruelena Yaeger, was presented with her jewel for service in office and reported a very successful term, having been present for every meeting night and all but two nights in her term as vice grand.

There were guests from Frewsburg and Jamestown, N. Y., and from Russell. Members were pleased, also, to welcome back Mrs. Florence Loney, of Starbrick, who has been convalescing following an automobile accident some weeks ago.

Plans were discussed for a public card party to be held next Friday evening, April 18, when both men and women will be invited. Lodge will convene at 7:30 o'clock and play for the card party will start at eight.

A "fire bug" who started seven forest fires within a distance of seven miles along the Willow Creek road in McKean County yesterday afternoon is being sought by officials of the U. S. Forest Service, State Motor Police and city police of Bradford, it was learned here today.

Between 60 and 70 acres of land was burned over by the fires, spaced at irregular intervals along the seven-mile stretch of road, apparently by some person driving a car from Bradford to Corydon, it was stated.

Two dwellings and a garage were threatened by the fires. Forestry officials said both houses would have been destroyed if the occupants had not been at home. The garage, said to be owned by a Warren resident, took fire but the blaze was extinguished before damage was done.

While most of the fires were on private land, there was some damage done to trees on the Allegheny National Forest, it was reported.

The first fire was discovered about two o'clock yesterday afternoon and the others followed immediately, the last being just over the Warren-McKean county line in the latter county. The first were near the Bradford municipal water reservation.

Each of the fires was started in grass along the highway and spread rapidly because of the dry condition of the fuel and the lack of humidity, forestry officials said.

We need only be assured that an infinite love and wisdom wait behind the veil to receive love and wisdom wait behind the veil to receive those whom God calls and we dismiss. Whatever they really need, God's understanding corrections for we need them so; there should be completeness, we are so sadly unfinished, there should be opportunity or even Heaven is road-end. There should be healings, how else could God be both just and kind? There should be comradeships never to be broken again or love will still be lonely. This we may believe and asking now no more go bravely on—"Until we close with all we loved And all we flow from, soul in

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: Not far removed from infidelity is the belief which unites such opposites as sickness and health, holiness and unholliness, calls both the offspring of spirit, and at the same time admits that Spirit is God—virtually declaring Him good in one instance and evil in another" (p.229).

THE FELLOWSHIP OF PRAYER
SATURDAY, APRIL 12. "And I saw the dead, small and great, stand before God." Read Revelation 20:11-12. 21:1-5.
There are so many questions believed hearts ask. This vision in the last Book of the Bible answers them all. The loved and for a little lost are with God. Love and imagination would like to know so much more: for now this is enough. We need to be assured that an infinite love and wisdom wait behind the veil to receive love and wisdom wait behind the veil to receive those whom God calls and we dismiss. Whatever they really need, God's understanding corrections for we need them so; there should be completeness, we are so sadly unfinished, they should be opportunity or even Heaven is roads-end. There should be healings, how else could God be both just and kind? There should be comradeships never to be broken again or love will still be lonely. This we may believe and asking now no more go bravely on—
"Until we close with all we loved And all we flow from, soul in soul."
PRAYER: O God, who dost bring Thy children out of darkness and the shadow of death, we thank Thee for these departed in whose love we were blessed, by whose wisdom we were guided and in whose tenderness we were healed. May the sureness of their nearness to us banish loneliness and the sureness of their nearness to Thee quiet our anxious spirits. In His name, Who is our light and life. Amen.

Reds Easy Choice Of MAJORS STAGING AP Sports Scribes To FINAL WARMUPS Annex National Flag BEFORE OPENERS

New York, April 12.—(AP)—The Cincinnati Reds, in the opinion of sports writers in major league cities, are capable of winning their third straight National League pennant this year and taking a place among the leading dynasties in baseball.

All but 14 of the 83 scribes participating in the annual pre-season poll of the Associated Press predicted the Reds would finish first and 13 of the others could see nothing worse than second for them.

With one stray vote cast for third place, Cincinnati received a total of 649 points on the basis of 4 for first, 7 for second, 8 for third, etc.

Twelve of the writers came out for the Brooklyn Dodgers to win the other two stood up for the St. Louis Cardinals. But in points Brooklyn received only 51 more than the Redbirds and it was evident that their chances were considered almost on a par.

Rated on total points the predictions were that the league would line up at the end of the season exactly as it did last year.

The total points received by each club were Cincinnati 649, Brooklyn 558, St. Louis 507, Pittsburgh 390, Chicago 325, New York 268, Boston 203 and Philadelphia 88.

The same writers wound up in a knot trying to pick the American League outcome, finishing in a dead heat between the Cleveland Indians and New York Yankees.

When Charlie Root hit the second homer of his career the other day, the other Cubs raised bats to form a military arch in return to the bench. ... Dodger fans are bawling over the 1941 passes. They not only call for a service charge of 40 cents, plus the usual ten cent tax, but are not good on opening days, night games, holidays or Sundays. Of course, you still can visit Ebbets Field for a nominal sum when the Dodgers are on the road.

Philadelphia, April 12.—(The Associated Press)—The Philadelphia Athletics are opening ticket sales for Connie Mack Day May 17 when the club plays Detroit, found 2,500 reservations on hand and predicted a sell-out of the approximately 35,000 Shibe Park seats.

All seats will be reserved except 3,000 in the bleachers. Tickets will be in the form of a souvenir with a picture and autograph of Mack.

The city of Harrisburg through John O'Leary, a follower of the Mackmen, bought 950 ducaats and the Old Timers Association of York reserved 800.

ALLEY OOP Not So Good By V. T. HAMLIN

SPORT SCATTERINGS Bill Rice

Any claim that World War II has on the American people's attention had better be pressed today and tomorrow, for after Monday a great majority of Americans will be forced to divide their sympathies between the oppressed of Europe and the Athletics or Phillies. Slap-nicka and his Indians will be heard of as much as Salomon, Floyd Giebel will be watched more closely than Paul Goches, Charlie Keller and Joe DiMaggio will be staged by Mike Kreevich. And the only Crochian uprising will be the trek to the flagpole on opening day, while the blitzkrieg will be taken care of by the Ruppert Rifles, sometimes known as the Bronx Bombers. Even President Roosevelt will leave off hailing the nation's resources to the aid of our sister democracies long enough to hunt the first ball at the Washington-Yank opener. Of course, the ladies will take their Bundles for Britain bags to the games, but how can the needies creak quite so steadily when the home team is two behind in the last of the ninth with three on and two out? Looks like the most joyful note Americans can hear is "Play ball!"

Billy Conn has been given what most sports fans believe amounts to a reprieve. Uncle Mike Jacobs, who may fear that Pittsburgh's William will stab his meat ticket on the last number, has made arrangements to squeeze one more mess of long green out of Joe Louis just in case by matching him with Buddy Baer in May. This will set the Louis-Simon scrap back to June, and Billy will have to wait 30 days for his chance. Out of Tony Musto's gallant stand against the champion and Buddy Baer's easy t. k. o. of Tony Galento comes the demand for the Baer-Louis scrap at once. This go will probably be staged at the nation's capital, while the Smoot set is needed for Detroit and the Conn affair will be produced under the stars which shine down on Yankee Stadium. Joe will lay off in August, if he is still champ, to run the colorful folks' golf tourney at his dude ranch, and will return to the wars in September against Lou Nova.

And Sid Feder points out that the latest looking dead thing aund at this writing is the business of basing beaks. They've been saying for years that boxing is dead. Well, with that $52,000-odd gate for the Louis-Musto fuss in St. Louis Tuesday night, the fight game needs the million-and-a-half dollar mark for the major attractions in this indoor season. Which is about as dead as a loaded machine gun. The thousand-dollar mark, Madison Square Garden is having a year reminiscent of the fabulous heyday of Tex Rickard, and it isn't Louis alone who is packing them in: $95,000 worth of cash customers went through the turnstiles to see Nova and Baer, and Fritz Zivic's bouts with Bummy Davis and Henry Armstrong outdrew Louis. Philadelphia, Cleveland, Chicago, Pittsburgh and Los Angeles have turned in big gates, but what is it that suddenly caused Gus Pan to unbutton the old socko, no one is quite sure.

The games, of five-innings, will begin at 3:45, with games forfeited unless the teams are ready by four o'clock. These games will replace the regular Gra-Y meetings during the schedule.

THIRD ROUND TITLE IS TAKEN BY YERGS

The Conewango Club last night got a preview of the two teams who will meet in the roll-offs for the league championship, as the Yergs rallied after losing the first game to drop the Pettibones for three points and annex the third round title.

The Yergs eliminated the rest of the opposition in the first round but took second to the Pettibones in the third.

"Mac" MacDonald, of the Pettibones was the scoring leader of last night's performance with 217 and 544. Ray Elliott also tossed an honor roll score of 215.

Reds Easy Choice Of AP Sports Scribes To Annex National Flag

New York, April 12.—(P)—The Cincinnati Reds, in the opinion of sports writers in major league cities, are capable of winning their third straight National League pennant this year and taking a place among the leading dynasties in baseball.

All but 14 of the 83 scribes participating in the annual pre-season poll of the Associated Press predicted the Reds would finish first and 13 of the others could see nothing worse than second for them.

With one stray vote cast for third place, Cincinnati received a total of 649 points on the basis of 8 for first, 7 for second, 6 for third, etc.

Twelve of the writers came out for the Brooklyn Dodgers to win and the other two stood up for the St. Louis Cardinals. But in points Brooklyn received only 51 more than the Redbirds and it was evident that their chances were considered almost on a par.

Rated on total points the predictions were that the league would line up at the end of the season exactly as it did last year.

The total points received by each club were Cincinnati 649, Brooklyn 598, St. Louis 507, Pittsburgh 390, Chicago 325, New York 268, Boston 203 and Philadelphia 88.

The same writers wound up in a knot trying to pick the American League outcome, finishing in a dead heat between the Cleveland Indians and New York Yankees.

MAJORS STAGING FINAL WARMUPS BEFORE OPENERS

Washington—The Senators' fans today got their first preview of the team which will open the American League season Monday against the Yankees. Young Walter Matson was nominated to pitch against the Orioles. The Nats, despite dismal predictions about their chances this year, came up from the south with an impressive record of 15 victories in 22 exhibitions.

Wichita, Kans.—Manager Frank Frisch may have to use an outboard to decide who will start the season at third base for the Pittsburgh Pirates. Lee Handley seemed to have won the job, but his work sagged and now Frisch is alternating him with Debs Garms, who led the National League in hitting last year but is something less than sensational.

If the Garms-Handley experiments fail Frisch can try Stu Martin, obtained from the Cardinals.

Boston—The Red Sox and Bees expected to present a half dozen or so newcomers to home fans in their city series today and tomorrow. O'Dell Hale, filling in at second for the injured Bobby Doerr, and Frankie Pylak, were the new Red Sox starters while week-end pitching assignments included Mickey Harris, who was farmed out last season, and Rookie Tex Hugheson. The Bees' new men were Wes Ferrell, former Red Sox pitcher who drew today's starting assignment on the mound; Earl Dahlgren and Earl Averill, who also are familiar to American League fans.

Cincinnati—When the Detroit Tigers clubbed Monte Pearson's slow clobber yesterday they virtually eliminated him as a possible opening-day pitcher for the Cincinnati Reds. They also added to Bill McKee's worries over the former American League star's inability to loosen up. Pearson lasted only one inning against the Red Sox April 1 and gave the Tigers nine hits in five frames yesterday.

Wichita, Kans.—Frankie Hayes, regarded as one of the best catchers in the American League, apparently is in tip-top condition for the Philadelphia Athletics' opener Tuesday. His receiving is superlative and he demonstrated yesterday that his batting eye is okay by getting five hits in six tries against Pittsburgh.

Lynchburg, Va.—The Phillies are up to their old game-losing trick—leaving men on base. They threatened in virtually every inn.

Those baths at Hot Springs boiled all the flue out of Coach Frank Thomas' system. St. Louis papers are calling Mike Jacobs the "Little Napoleon."

Too Bad, But—Too bad Jimmy Braddock has arthritis, but it is high time something put a stop to that comeback campaign.

Today's Guest Star—Frank Grayson, Cincinnati Times-Star. "Johnny Vander Meer is getting into the games quite often these days—by running for Lombardi.

ONLY WANER REMAINS—Pittsburgh—Lloyd Waner is the only Pittsburgh Pirate who was a member of the pennant-winning crew of 1927.

SPORTS SCATTERINGS

Any claim that World War II has on the American people's attention had better be pressed today and tomorrow, for after Monday a great majority of Americans will be forced to divide their sympathies between the oppressed of Europe and the Athletics or Phillies. Slapnicka and his Indians will be heard of as much as Salomika, Floyd Gleibel and his Yankees. Young Walter Matson was nominated to pitch against the Orioles. The Nats, despite dismal predictions about their chances this year, came up from the south with an impressive record of 15 victories in 22 exhibitions.

Dickie Dare first, maybe. Remember last night he and Dan—I guess his name is Dan—were flying away from that big rock and their autogyro looked like it had been hit by a bullet?

Well, it really was hit. See, Dickie is yelling, "We're on fire!" And Dan says they have to bail out. That means... on you know what it means. Okay. So they have to bail out. And he tells Jackie I mean Dickie... that he should remember to pull the rip cord. That means... oh, excuse me! So Dickie lets the pigeon go... don't ask me where the pigeon came from: you're supposed to remember this stuff... and he picks up Wags and he says: "All right, Dan, here I go." And then he jumps out of the burning plane with the dog under his arm. "Wow, this is awful!" Dickie says. "Help! Murder!"

Will he get down all right? Looksee, son, you don't suppose that the guy who draws this comic strip is going to let Dickie die so that he'll have to invent a new character, do you? Trouble is, you take this stuff too seriously.

I don't blame you for getting excited, though. Comics are a lot different now than they were when I was a kid. Used to be all bam, sock and powie then. But you would have liked Little Nemo, the boy who was always dreaming about something, and Slim Jim with the thin legs and great big feet, and Buster Brown and his dog Tige, and Happy Hooligan with the tin can on his head. Yeah, he wore it for a hat. My daddy used to read them to me, too.

WARREN LEGION MEMBERS PLAN COMING EVENTS

With the Legion's Egg Hunt successfully concluded members of Chief Cornplanter Post are turning to new activities which will culminate in their observance of Memorial Day on May 30th.

The first Legion meeting at which plans for Memorial Day will be discussed will be held this Monday evening at the post home and Commander N. K. Wendelboe is desirous of having a large turnout of members.

Even before activities connected with Memorial Day, final plans are to be announced at Monday's meeting for the Tureen-Dinner Dance to be held at the Legion Home Wednesday, April 16th. All ex-service men, their families and friends are invited to attend this evening of entertainment.

It will be different than the usual dinner dances in that members of the Legion will play host to the Auxiliary next Wednesday. Besides helping prepare the menu and having a part in the actual preparation of the dinner, members of the Legion will also wait on tables and clean up afterwards. While many Legionnaires will thus return to active "K.P." duties the ladies of the Auxiliary will have one evening at which they may sit around and be waited upon, a novel experience for an Auxiliary as active as has been the one which so loyally serves members of Chief Cornplanter Post. All members of the Legion and Auxiliary are thus reminded of the dinner this Wednesday night at 6:30. Dancing will follow.

Noted Actress Is To Be Featured in Show at Jamestown

Edith Atwater created the role of "Maggie Cutler" in the original production of "The Man Who Came to Dinner" and now resumes the same part for the tour of the Hart-Kaufman Comedy, which brings Alexander Woolcott in the title role to Shea's Theater, Jamestown Feb. 22. An experienced and talented actress, Miss Atwater made her professional debut to the accompaniment of boos and hisses, on one of those occasions where the louder she was booed and the longer she was hissed the greater was her glory. She was cast as the sinister villainess in the famous Morley-Throckmorton-Milliken and Grubbie burlesque presentation of that old thriller, "After Dark," in that Solom and Gomorrah of the Volstead era, Hoboken, New Jersey.

This engagement was followed by a season of repertory with the Goodman Players in Chicago, her native city. A favorite of stock exchanges, the found engagements under similar auspices in Woodstock, Buffalo, Suffern and Cape May.

Broadway first saw her in "Brittle Heaven," with Dorothy Gish in 1934, and later in "This, Our House." She has since been importantly cast with Ruth Gordon in a revival of that bandy, Elizabethan spree, "The Country Wife," and with Dudley Digges and Henry Hull in the Theatre Guild's "The Masque of the Red Death." This was followed by her engagement with John Golden for the role of Lenora, the restless actress in "Susan and God," with Gertrude Lawrence.

Until a few years ago tournament bridge players believed that few women play tournament bridge well. Today, however, we find women on championship combinations almost as often as the men and there are several women players who are conceded to be on a par with the men. And so of late I have been watching the playing of women with special interest.

Here is a hand that was well played by Mrs. Wilton McCarthy, who was our hostess at Annapolis the evening we played rubber bridge.

As Mrs. McCarthy remarked, "I don't know quite how we got to four spades, but here we are." Dummy won the club lead with the ace. The three of spades was led and North's ten was won by the jack. East continued clubs. On third round Mrs. McCarthy
